3. As per our opinion, the annexed financial statements fairly represent the financial position and performance of the financial year and cash flows at 31. December 2019, under all significant aspects. The Company's annexed financial statements were prepared according to OMPF No. 2844/2016 on approving the accounting Regulations according to the International Financial Reporting Standards

(hereinafter as «IFRS») under all significant aspects, which allowed the auditor to have a clean opinion.

Opinion Grounds

4. The audit was performed in accordance with the International Audit Standards (hereinafter as «IAS»), Regulation (EU) No. 537/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council (hereinafter as «The Regulation») and Law No. 162/2017 (hereinafter as «The Law»). Based on the mentioned standards and regulations, our responsibilities are detailed in Section the Auditor's Responsibilities of our report. We are independent from the Company, according to the Code of Ethics of the Accounting Professionals, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA), according to the relevant Romanian ethics requirements, including the Regulation and the Law, and we have fulfilled these ethics requirements accordingly. We believe that the audit evidences that we obtained are sufficient and adequate in order to provide the grounds for our opinion.

Uncertainty on business continuity

5. We draw attention on Note No. 2 – Basis for preparing the individual financial statements (c). The Company has potential for economic and social recovery, and the activity is based on stability and an active Management.

According to Sentence No. 129 from 03.03.2017 given in File no. 4732/105/2010 by Dolj Court, Civil Division 2, the restructuring procedure for SC UZTEL SA was finalized and closed, following the fulfilment of the payment obligations as per the plan confirmed in Sentence No 1282 from 09.10.2012 and also per the inclusion of the Company in the economic circuit for business continuation.

The objective of the Executive Board for this financial reporting is maintaining a justified and adequate financial balance which would justify the business continuity principle. Considering this presumption, the auditor concludes that the company's assessment regarding the business continuity capacity is based on the available information at a certain point. Later events may not be aligned with the above mentioned reasoning and statements.

The financial results of the Company for 2020 were below expectations and the company's turnover was below the previously reported one for 2019 (2020 Turnover: 35.278.237 RON, in comparison to 2019 Turnover: 63.506.667 RON). As per the results of the half year, the Company has adopted a prudent budget for income and expenses, considering the existent production contract and reasonably reduced business activity, as per the low demand for oil machinery, due to SARS COV2 pandemic. The Company also estimated low costs as per the production and personnel reorganisation, in ordert to increase productivity and to ensure business continuity.

Key auditing aspects

6. The key auditing aspects are those which, based on our professional judgement and rationale, were the most important in performing the current auditing exercise. These aspects were approached in the audit of the individual financial statements as a whole and we do not provide a separate opinion in this respect.

Key audit aspects

Audit approach

Risk management and internal controls system

UZTEL SA has organized a control system for Senior Management through hierarchical control and preventive financial control. The Company did not organize the compliance, controlling and risk management functions, as such the Company's Board of Directors did not conduct any controls on the business activity. The internal audit function was externalized and is reporting to Audit Committee. The internal audit recommendations were not included in a follow-up report for fulfilling the 2020 recommendations.

Our procedures included:

- Assessment of the control and internal audit function;
- Assessment of the compliance and risk management functions;
- Testing the control and internal audit plan, considering the control reports for the management, also verifying the implementation of the given recommendations.
- Testing an action plan contianing deadlines and responsibilities;
- Collaborating with the Audit Committee. Given the findings, our opinion remained the same.

Income recognition

Accounting treatment, identification, assessment, recognition, according to IAS 18. In Note No. 3 (a) on the accounting policies – the income is a key performance indicator for the Company, have a direct influence on the majority of the specific objectives and expectations.

Our procedures included:

- Verification of the income accounting policies against the accounting standards and applicable legislation
- Verification whether the income was correctly classified and processed in the appropriate period;

The 2020 operating income of 33.630.585 RON, are lower than the previous exercise (2019: 74.882.706 RON). The Company recorded significant loss for the sales (2020: 35.328.635 RON). For 2020, the Company received 1.039.945 RON as grants, which were recorded as income (Note No. 12). The incoming grants have been received as per the facilities provided as per GEO No. 92/2020 on adopting active supporting measures for employees and employers considering the COVID pandemic. The later evets from the financial year closure refer to all events up to the moment the financial statements are authorized for issuance, thus approved by Management.

- Assessing the income recognition principles and testing the income recognition controls based on provided services (sample testing);
- Inspecting the customer contracts for obtaining an understanding on the conducted transactions;
- Inspecting the relevant documentation in order to assess whether the revenues were booked in the appropriate financial period.

Given the findings, our opinion remained the same.

Evaluation of the business continuity principle

This principle is a key aspect in the audit engagement. In Note No. 2 (a) to the IFRS Conformity Declaration, the Company takes responsibility for confirming undertaking continuous business activities. The business activity trend of the Company has decreased, however the net assets and own equity are positive. Thus, the Management considers that there are no uncertainties that may put into question the Company's capacity to continue its activity, being able to manage the assets and fulfil its obligations while undertaking future activities.

Our procedures considered the following assumptions:

- Auditors must test the Management's opinions on continuity and solvability. The Management's responsibility is continuous, while the auditor's opinion is based on a certain situation at a certain moment.
- The acceptance of continuity basis for leverage involves solvency, meaning whether the Company would be able to fulfil the provided responsibilities at the moment of issuing the balance sheet.
- Our procedures considered the market share of UZT. Although the UZT share value has considerably increased as per the economic recovery after the insolvency period, the UZT transactions were insignificant.

Given the findings, our opinion remained the same, based on ISA 560.

Coronavirus pandemic situation – COVID 19

The pandemic is an event which influenced the Company's business activity, by reducing the oil machinery orders, due to significant drop in the business activities of the large oil companies. The Company's management recorded the event in the Notes to the statements (page 28). The liquidity risk was treated in the Report of the Administrators at later events as unavoidable event entailing drastic drop of orders and commercial contracts for 2021.

Later events

The Company has recorded the impact of this situation in the detailed informative notes – Later Events, so that the users could assess the implications and to acknowledge the effects on the Company and generally, on the economy.

The Auditor's responsibilities in auditing the individual financial statements

- 11. Our objectives relate to obtaining a reasonable insurance that the individual financial statements, as whole, are lacking significant distortions, caused either by fraud or error, also to issue the Auditor's report which includes our opinion. A reasonable insurance represents a high level of insurance, but does not guarantee that the audit, undertaken according to ISA, will always detect a significant distortion, if it exists.
- 12. As part of an audit undertaken according to ISA, we use professional judgement and we maintain a professional scepticism.

In addition:

• We identify and assess signification distortion risks on the individual financial statements, caused either by fraud or error, we plan and we perform audit procedures as risk responses and we obtain sufficient and adequate audit evidences as to provide a basis for our opinion.

The risk of not detecting a significant distortion caused by fraud is higher than the one for a significant distortion caused by error, due to the fact that fraud may relate to misleading, secrets, forgery, false statements and overriding internal control.

- We understand the relevant internal control for the audit, in order to plan auditing procedures in line with the circumstances, without the purpose of providing an opinion on the efficiency if the Company's internal control.
- We assess the appropriateness of the used accounting policies and the reasonability of the accounting estimates and of the Management information reporting.
- We conclude on the business continuity accounting appropriateness used by the Management and we determine, based on the obtained audit evidence, whether there is a significant uncertainty regarding the events or conditions which could raise questions on the Company's capacity to continue its business activity. In case we conclude that there is a significant uncertainty, we will draw attention on the related presentations for the financial statements within the auditor's report or, in case the presentations are inconsistent, we will change our opinion. Our conclusions are based on audit evidences which were obtained until the auditor's report date. Nevertheless, the Company may not undertake its business based on activity continuation principle due to future events or conditions.
- We assess the presentation, the structure and the content of the individual financial statements, including the presentation of financial information, and also the fairness of how the financial statements reflect transactions and key events.
- We inform the persons who are responsible with the governance on the scope and duration of the audit, also on the main findings, including any significant deficiencies of the internal control.
- Additionally, we provide the persons who are responsible with the governance our statement that we met the ethical requirements on independence and we communicated all relationships or other aspects that could have affected our independence, and, if the case, related measures taken.
- 13. We prioritise all communicated aspects in order to determine the most important ones from auditing the individual financial statements, which become the key auditing aspects. We describe these aspects within the audit report, except for the case when the laws or regulations forbid making them public or for the extremely rare circumstances, when the public interest benefits may be overcome by the negative impact of the public communication.
